

LEGAL NOTICE

All qualified users of the Opel Media Library must agree not to use the visuals, videos, catalogues and all other media made available to them, other than for their declared use and adhering to the rights that have been negotiated for Opel Automobile GmbH (geographic parameters, usage coverage, period of validity). The negotiated rights are mentioned on the documented list of visuals, videos, catalogues and other media and are also systematically indicated for each visual, video, catalogue and other media under the selection menu as well as on the form for downloads. Opel Automobile GmbH will not be held responsible for the usage of visuals, videos, catalogues and all other media made available to qualified users of the Opel Media Library when their usage does not adhere completely to the rights that have been negotiated for them by the Brand. The qualified users are solely responsible for respecting the negotiated rights for all usage of visuals, videos, catalogues and all other media made available to them. For this reason, all login I.D.'s and passwords to the Opel Media Library must be kept personal and are non-transferable. In the event of any law suit or legal action against Opel Automobile GmbH for the illicit and improper use of a visual, video, catalogue and other media by a user of the Opel Media Library, they will assume complete responsibility and reimburse Opel Automobile GmbH the total sum of all monies paid out (law suit damage, lawyer fees etc.). Opel Automobile GmbH also reserves the right to take all measures against a user who illegally uses any of the visuals, videos, catalogues and or other media by these parties (with termination of access to the Opel Media Library). All downloading of visuals, videos, catalogues and other media by a user of the Opel Media Library must agree to and accept the conditions here above mentioned.
